School Report.

As we review the school year, our minds are carried back to the schools of forty or fifty years ago, and with them we are inclined to draw a comparison. In that comparison what do we find? That the schools then were much larger than now; where then we found forty to sixty scholars, we now find two or three. We found then large families, where we find none now. We also found in these schools a class of twenty or more scholars who were from sixteen to twenty one years of age. Now our scholars want to leave the schools before they are fourteen. Are we, as a School Board, responsible for this state of things? We hope not. Our responsibility, we think, is with the schools of today as we find them, which are on as high a grade as can be expected; and we think, taking the number of scholars and their ages into consideration, they are equal to the schools of the past. Anyone visiting our schools, as it is the duty of parents to do, will find the teachers as a whole are of good moral character, well qualified and willing to do their part to make our schools the best; also will find many bright and intelligent scholars. We cannot help feeling that our efforts and your money are not spent in vain.

JOHN S. QUIMBY,

DANIEL D. ATWOOD,

School Board.

Following a time-honored custom, we would call the attention of the townspeople to the condition of our schools.

We have furnished twenty-eight weeks of schooling in each of our eight schools, and have endeavored to provide the best teachers possible for the same. They were all teachers of experience, and the result of their labors proves that the Board made no mistake in their selection. Four of them are graduates of higher institutions of learning, and brought with them to the school-room the zeal and enthusiasm which they had acquired away.

All the teachers worked faithfully to promote the best interests of the pupils, and their efforts were crowned with more than usual success.

The Board made fifty-five official visits during the year. But twenty-three parents in the entire town saw fit to visit the schools. We are confident that if more parents were to visit our schools and see with what our teachers have to contend, they would be more adverse to unkind criticism.

One hundred and twenty-four pupils have attended our schools the past year, and the total expense for text-books and supplies has been sixty-nine dollars and thirty-two cents ($69.32), being but fifty-six cents per year for each pupil.

Thanking the town as a whole for their co-operation in making the schools what they are, we submit this report.

A. B. HOAG, M. D.,
D. D. ATWOOD.
HARRIET E. CARTLAND.

Report of School Board.

It seems that a lengthy report of our schools is unnecessary, for everyone interested in our schools is supposed to be well informed in regard to them.

The School Board have had an unusually difficult job in securing teachers who are qualified, without paying much more than has been our accustomed practice. We think the time is not far distant when we shall have to pay much higher prices to our teachers. Most of our schools have been supplied with competent teachers, and the results as a whole are highly satisfactory.

There have been some repairs made at North and East Sandwich, and we have quite a revenue in the treasury to aid in future repairs which can be used to good advantage. The parents have shown a good degree of interest in our schools, for which aid we are thankful.

We wish to thank the town as a whole for their support and the liberal appropriation for our use.

D. D. ATWOOD,
HARRIET E. CARTLAND,
A. B. HOAG, M. D.,
